The Break Up of the Ice Gorges at Cincinnati,

NEW YORK, Jan. 17, 1867.

THE STORM IN NEW YORK.

The storm to-day caused delay on the Eastern and Jersey roads. The Hudson River is little troubled outside the city, but the trains are mostly delayed in the upper part of the Island. The rivers are full of drifting ice, and navigation is difficult.

DAMAGE BY ICE GORGES AT CINCINNATI.

CINCINNATI, January 17.—The weather suddenly turned very cold last night. The thermometer at eight o'clock this morning stood eight degrees above zero. About four inches of snow has fallen since two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The ice gorges in the river above broke loose last night and came by here about midnight, the ice extending from shore to shore. The head of the drift struck some coal and flat boats lying above the Water Works, carrying eighteen of them down the stream. The gorge next struck the steamer Argyle, cutting her hull badly, and driving her against the America, a new boat building for the Louisville mail line, and both boats drifted down the stream. The America lay next above the Pine Grove, and struck her with great force, carrying away her guards and cook house; also breaking her cylinder. The Newport ferry boat, while making her trip, was also caught in the ice, and carried down stream, with the loss of one of her wheels. The America lies at the head of Picayune bar; the Argyle, at eleven o'clock this morning, was at the head of McCallum's riffle, and will propably sink. The coal boats, at last account, were floating down stream. The damage done is considerable. Navigation was totally suspended to-day. The board of underwriters will not allow boats to leave the port until the weather moderates.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 17.—Twenty-one loaded and thirty-one empty barges and floats were swept away by ice. Loss $100,000.

The Mail Line steamer United States, and the Maysville packet Magnolia, arrived this evening without damage, and have laid up. Navigation is suspended from Pittsburgh to Cairo.

AT PHILADELPHIA.

FROM WASHINGTON.

MEETING OF THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

The Speech of its President, Gov. Ward, of N. J.

NEGRO ADMITTED TO PRACTICE IN U. S. SUPREME COURT.

Nothing to be Done in Impeachment this Winter.

WASHINGTON, January 17, 1867.

MEETING OF UNION NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

At a meeting of the Union National Committee to-night, there were present, Gov. Ward, N. J. President; J. B. Clark, of New Hampshire; A. B. Gardiner, of Vermont; Wm. Claflin, Massachusetts; J. R. Fowler, Tennessee; B. C. Cook, Illinois; Senator Kirkwood, Iowa, H. W. Hoffman, Indiana; N. B. Smithers, Delaware; W. C. Corning, Virginia, Wm. Windom, Minnesota; Dr. Goodloe, North Carolina, and John Defrees, Indiana, the last named being Secretary.

Horace Greely, a member of the committee is in Washington engaged in lecturing.

In the course of his remarks, calling the meeting to order, Governor Ward said: The faithlessness of the President to the principles and the policy of the party which elected him, has rendered more difficult the work of restoring the Union on the basis of loyalty and freedom; but those who have conquered armed treason will prove equal to any remaining danger. Since we assembled last the people of the loyal States have attested anew their adherence to the republican creed, and their unwavering determination to build the future of the nation on the enduring basis of justice, humanity and freedom. He favored carrying out the plan of the Congressional Reconstruction Committee, and the extension of the franchise to all men, without regard to color. He was content to rest the whole subject in the hands of the present and succeeding Congress.

There was a free conversation in relation to the condition of the country and the measures which would best secure the fruits of victory. There will be another meeting of the Committee to-morrow.

GOVERNOR ORR OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

Governor Orr is here on business connected with South Carolina; among other things, immigration into that State, and the relief of postmasters who had not made returns to the Federal authorities during the war, and who are now harrassed by Government claims. The Governors does not favor the adoption of the Constitutional amendment by South Carolina, or any other Southern State, but favors graceful submission to anything the conquerors demand.

New York	$3,303,465
Boston	226,327
Philadelphia	105,488
Baltimore	109,967

This shows a considerable increase over the receipts for some time past, owing probably to the new tariff, the disposition being to pay all duties before changes are made, particularly in cases where duties are to be increased by provisions of the new bill.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

The impeachment project makes no progress. The Judiciary Committee have not yet begun the investigation. It is now rumored that nothing will be done this winter, as an impeachment by the House is impossible for want of time.

She was crowded with passengers, a large number of whom were lost. It is estimated by the survivors that one hundred persons were drowned. Among those lost are Judge M'Bride, of Monroe county, Missouri; a family of fifteen persons, bound for Texas, were all lost. The steward and twenty of the crew are believed to be lost. The captain and pilots are safe. There were some forty women and children on board, most of whom were lost.

A tug passing up took off those who had presence of mind enough to stick by the wreck, and brought them here to-night.

It is impossible to obtain the full particulars of this distressing calamity to-night.

Forty soldiers died on the Isthmus, and about the same number of civilians.

The steamer was quarantined as a precaution against the spread of the disease. Her passengers will be landed at the Quarantine and sheltered by tents.

By the United States steamer Saranac, which arrived from Mazatlan yesterday, letters have been received stating that Juarez is at Durango. The Liberals were, in fact, in possession of Mazatlan, Guaymas and Luperz.

The Saranac brings ten thousand Mexican dollars.

A large number of families are following the retiring French troops, fearing the wanton excess by the guerrillas of Juarez.

The abandonment of Gaudalajara was regarded as a strategic move, and its re-occupation by an increased force under Miramon was expected.

Marquez will soon commence a campaign against the Liberals in the valley of Mexico.

Gen. Diaz, Liberal, is reported defeated in two engagements in the State of Ojacca, and had been compelled to evacuate the city of that name.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—The United States troops have been removed from the steamer American to Angel Island, where they will have more accommodations, and allow the passengers more ease and comfort, and chance of keeping in good health.

Great preparations are making at San Luis for the reception of Juarez, who was expected to make that city his capital.

The Ortega faction is report to be gaining ground.

A circular of Marshal Bazaine appears in the Rio Grande Courier of January 15th. It is as follows:

SENATE.

PETITIONS PRESENTED.

Various petitions were referred, including one from Texas Unionists, for the reorganization of the Government of that State; and one from the Society for the relief of the poor in Cincinnati, complaining that great distress exists among the widows and orphans of soldiers, in consequence of the delay experienced in collecting bounties and back pay.

Mr. RAMSEY, of Minnesota, from the Post Office Committee, reported the House bill, fixing the compensation of postoffice and route agents, at not less than $500 nor more than $1200 annually. It was passed.

NIAGARA FALLS SHIP CANAL.

On motion of Mr. CHANDLER, the Senate, by a vote of 20 against 16, took up the Niagara Falls Ship Canal bill of the last session.

Mr. EDMUNDS moved to strike out the section providing that the act shall not take effect, unless the Legislature of New York gives its assent within two years. The bill was then made a special order for to-morrow.

RAILROAD IN THE DISTRICT.

The House bill to amend the act authorizing the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad to construct a railroad from a point between Lennoxville and Monocacy Junction, Maryland, into the District of Columbia, by a provision that said extension into the District, shall be on such line and to such place as authorized by Congress, and no other, was passed.

ILLEGAL VOTING IN THE DISTRICT.

Mr. MORRILL reported a bill to prevent illegal voting in the District of Columbia, and for other purposes, with amendments. The amendments provide for the appointment, by the Supreme Court of the District; of five Judges of Election for the city of Washington, and three for the city of Georgetown, whose duty it shall be, biennially, and prior to each election, to prepare a list of persons qualified to vote in said cities.

APPOINTMENT OF PENSION AGENTS.

Mr. LANE called up the bill to regulate the appointment of pension agents.

Mr. FESSENDEN said he objected to the kind of legislation contained in the amendment vacating all offices filled since the first of October.

TENURE OF OFFICE.

Pending the consideration of the bill the morning hour expired, and the regular order, which was the bill to regulate the tenure of office, was taken up.

Mr. M'DOUGALL spoke against the bill.

Mr. WILLEY replied to Mr. Cowan's remarks of yesterday, stating that the President had appointed in West Virginia, those who abused him the worst. One man named Long had been appointed Post Master at Wheeling. He was editor of the Wheeling Register. Mr. Willey read editorials from the paper named, dated March 13, 14 and 15, 1865, in which the President is denounced as a drunkard, an idiot, &c.

Mr. JOHNSON asked when that appointment had been made, and if it had been confirmed.

Mr. WILLEY said the appointment was made in August, and had not been confirmed.

Mr. COWAN said it was impossible where so many appointments were to be made, to avoid an occasional mistake.

Mr. HENDRICKS replied to the former remarks of Mr. Sumner, defending the President for removing from office those who opposed his policy, and placing men in who were in sympathy with him. He said in nine cases out of ten, where the President had removed anybody, he had appointed in his place a man who voted the Lincoln and Johnson ticket in 1864. Alluding to alleged remarks of the President, that he would "kick" certain men out of office, he expressed doubt whether the President ever used it, though he had not taken upon himself the task of reading all the speeches made by the President on his way to Chicago and back.

Mr. CONNESS reviewed the political differences between the President and Congress, saying the responsibility was not with Congress. The President, he said, would not have restricted himself to four thousand removals, had not the Senate stood in his way.

Mr. DOOLITTLE favored a tenure of office during good behavior. The power of removal, whether placed in the Senate or the Executive, was liable to abuse. As to the Philadelphia Convention, and the gentlemen who participated in it, he claimed for himself, and those who acted with him, the most patriotic motives. He would not speak at length on this topic now, but at a future time expected to prove the policy of the administration was the policy of Lincoln and from which the Republican party had departed.

Mr. HOWE said, inasmuch as his colleague had spent a good deal of time in attempting to demonstrate that problem already, and as about two-thirds of the people had failed to see it, he did not think that it would pay for him to try to demonstrate it any more.

Mr. DOOLITTLE said he could demonstrate it from his colleague's speech on the question admitting Arkansas to representation.

Mr. HOWE denied that any such thing could be proven from the speech referred to.

Mr. SUMNER replied to the remarks of several Senators against the pending proposition which was an amendment offered by him. He congratulated the President on having found so able a defender and champion as Mr. Hendricks, and would say, before this controversy was ended, the President would need all the ability, all the experience, and all the powers of debate of the Senator from Indiana.

Mr. Sumner advocated his amendment. He said it was the duty of Congress to protect the loyal people against the President of the United States. In this particular the precedent of the fathers of the country could not be quoted, because there was no President of the United States had become an enemy of his country.

Mr. McDOUGALL rose to a question of privilege. He asked if Mr. Sumner's words as written by him, that "never before had we a President who was an enemy of his country," were in order.

The CHAIR (Mr. Anthony) decided that this did not go beyond the general bounds of debate.

Mr. McDOUGALL appealed; but after some debate, and the statement of Mr. SUMNER that the Senator had not quoted him correctly, he withdrew the appeal, remarking that he had a very bad pair of ears and bad memory.

Mr. SUMNER proceeded with his remarks, and repeated his language: "There, sir, is the duty of the hour; there was no such duty on our fathers; there was no such duty on our predecessors in this particular, because there was no President of the United States who had become the enemy of his country."

Mr. DOOLITTLE rose to a question of order that such language towards the Executive was not permissable in the Senate.

The CHAIR decided that the words did not exceed the limit of debate.

Mr. DOOLITTLE appealed and moved that in order that the Senators might have an opportunity to consider the question the Senate adjourn.

The motion to adjourn was disagreed to.

Mr. LANE moved to lay the appeal on the table. Carried; yeas 29, nays 10.

The Senate then adjourned.

HOUSE.

NO EXCLUSION OF WITNESSES ON ACCOUNT OF COLOR.

The House went into a Committee of the Whole on the legislative appropriation bill.

Mr. STEVENS offered an amendment as an additional section, extending to the Court of Claims the provisions of section third of the act of July, 1864, which declares that in the courts of the United States there shall be no exclusion of any witness on account of color, nor in any civil actions, because he is a party to, or interested in the issues tried. He said the Court of Claims had recently held that it was no court of the United States, and therefore the law did not apply to it.

The amendment, after a short discussion, was agreed to.

The bill was then reported to the House.

THE CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE.

After some debate, the House rejected, by 51 to 57, an amendment that no further appropriation shall be made for supplying complete sets of the Congressional Globe and appendix to members of any succeeding Congress.

The proviso that the United States will terminate at the close of the present Congress the purchase of one complete set of the above for each Senator, Representative and Delegate, was adopted—84 against 56.

TELEGRAPH TO THE PACIFIC.

The paragraph appropriating $40,000 for facilitating telegraphic communication between the Atlantic and Pacific, was struck out.

COLLECTION OF STATISTICS.

The paragraph appropriating $10,000 for collecting statistics and information in regard to the mineral resources of the Northwestern States, was struck out—64 against 34.

INCREASED PAY TO CLERKS.

The amendment making an appropriation for increased compensation to clerks and employees of the House, was adopted.

The bill was then passed.

PRINTING DEBATES.

The Committee on Printing was instructed to consider the expediency of securing official reports of the proceedings of Congress by reporters chosen by each House, and for their publication at the Government Printing Office.

DEBT DUE TO TEXAS BY THE UNITED STATES.

On motion of Mr. WASHBURNE, of Indiana, the Secretary of the Treasury was instructed to report what amount was due by the United States to Texas previous to the rebellion; what remains unpaid and whether Texas has accounted for the money, and the stores taken by her for the Confederacy.

TARIFF ON SILKS.

On motion of Mr. BIDWELL, the Committee on Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of making the tariff on silk goods imported specific and according to weight, instead of ad valorem.

Several bills from the Committee on the District of Columbia were passed.

PROPERTY OF THE LATE CONFEDERACY.

Mr. COOK introduced a bill to enable the United States to recover property formerly belonging to the Confederate States that have been lost or smuggled away. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

STEVENS' RECONSTRUCTION BILL.

The House then considered Mr. Stevens' Reconstruction bill.

Mr. BAKER, of Illinois, spoke against the bill in its present form, objecting to several points in it, and expressing doubts on the constitutionality of the third section. His substantive objection, however, was to the sixth section, in combatting which he denied that the people of the Southern States were aliens, or could be made so by the law of Congress. They had never ceased to be citizens of the United States. Their Government had never been recognized by the United States or any other country. He objected to other sections of the bill and desired it referred to the Committee on Reconstruction, warning the House against degrading or dishonoring the States of the Union.

Mr. GRINNELL supported the bill. He was not prepared to yield up all his judgment to the Committee on Reconstruction. The session was wearing away and he wanted the matter disposed of by Congress. Congress would deserve the reproach of the world if it did not see that the friends of the nation in the rebel States had not full protection, extending over their lives, and political and civil rights. He would not advocate the execution or banishment of rebels; but would place black men by their sides with equal rights.

BRIDGING RIVERS.

Mr. HOGAN introduced a bill to repeal that section of the railway bridge bill of last session, which authorizes low bridges.

IMPROVEMENT OF LAKE HARBORS.

On motion of Mr. DRIGGS, the Secretary of War was asked for the results of the surveys for improvements in Ontagonon Harbor on Lake Superior, and if none have been made then to order such to be made.

Mr. DRIGGS introduced a bill to amend the acts for the disposal of certain coal lands and town property. Referred.

WANTS TO BE ON THE RECORD.

Mr. LAWRENCE of Ohio, stated he was unavoidably absent for the last three days of the week; if present he would have voted for the bills admitting Nebraska and Colorado, and in favor of Mr. Boutwell's amendments.

CLOSE OF DEBATE.

In reply to the Speaker, Mr. STEVENS intimated he would try and close the debate on his bill next week. Adjourned.

FROM NASHVILLE.

A Quorum of the Legislature—The Probable Action of That Body—Disfranchisement of Rebels.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 17.—There was a quorum in the House to-day. It is believed by leading radicals that the Legislature will confer suffrage upon the negroes, keeping white rebels disfranchised; and also enact a law placing armed militia at the disposal of the Governor to maintain order at the polls.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Where is the Boy?

Yesterday Warden William White received a letter from St. Charles, Kane county, Illinois, addressed to the "Steward of the Pittsburgh State Prison." The writer of the letter earnestly requested information concerning the whereabouts of John W. House, a young man, aged about twenty-two years; asking whether he was at present confined in the jail, and if so, on what charge. The letter was signed Lydia House, and the writer concluded by saying that by answering the questions contained in the epistle, Mr. White would gain the thanks of a widowed mother and a loving sister. Young House, it was stated, was formerly employed on the Pennsylvania Railroad, and served three years in the Sixth regiment of Illinois volunteers. By reference to the jail record it appeared that the man House had been committed on the 13th of April by Alderman Taylor for a hearing on a charge of passing counterfeit money. By inquiry of Alderman Taylor we ascertained that the hearing had been accorded to the accused on the 16th of April, when, as no evidence was adduced to show that he was in any manner guilty of the charge, he was honorably discharged. Since that time nothing has been heard from him. It is certainly to be hoped that he will speedily make his whereabouts known to the "loved ones at home."

Rupture—Trusses.

The prevalence of this ailment has become so common that Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, of 140 Wood street, has given special attention to the subject. During the past twenty years he has not only studied the anatomy of hernia, but has brought to his aid appliances and devices that will retain any kind of hernia, and in a vast majority of cases effect a thorough and radical cure. Every kind of truss of the most approved sort will be found in his establishment, besides every other mechanical appliances used in the cure of disease or deformity. Any of our readers who may stand in need of any article of this kind, will, we are assured, be accommodated at this establishment. The Doctor has recently visited the Eastern establishments for the purpose of procuring the best modern improvements, so that he now has an assortment that cannot be surpassed for usefulness and variety in the United States. Particular attention in the application of trusses to children. Medical office and consultation room, 120 Penn street, corner of Evans alley.

Popular Shoe Palace Emporium.

No. 26 and 28 Fifth street, W. B. Clapp & Company, still maintains the long established reputation of a first class boot and shoe house for the millions. We would say to those who have been deferring the purchase of new boots and shoes, in consequence of high prices, that they need no longer delay, the time having arrived when they can obtain this indispensable article, at a cost quite as reasonable as in the days of specie payment. That this assertion is correct, can readily be seen by calling at the well-known establishment of W. C. Clapp & Co. No. 26 and 28 Fifth street, where you will find an endless variety of boots and shoes.

Will be Taken Up on Monday.

It was announced in the Criminal Court yesterday, that the case of the commonwealth vs. Thomas Smith, colored, indictment murder, would be taken up on Monday forenoon, at ten o'clock, at which time all witnesses summoned were expected to be in attendance. Smith, it will be recollected, caused the death of Mr. Hendderick, a member of Theatre orchestra, by shooting him with a pistol in October last.

More Horse Stealing.—Martin Yester, residing about a mile and a half beyond Wilkinsburg, in Wilkins township, came to Mayor McCarthy's office yesterday, and informed the officers that during Wednesday night two valuable mares belonging to him had been stolen from his stable by some person or persons unknown. One of the stolen animals was a bay with a white star on her forehead, and the other was gray. Besides these the thieves stole one buggy bridle and one common blind bridle. No clue to the thieves has been found, but the police have the matter in hands. A reward has been offered.

Counterfeiters from Titusville.—On Wednesday three men named William Hughes, Marcus Hughes and William Hunt, were turned over to the care of Warden White, having been committed to jail by United States Commissioner Mowbray, of Titusville, to await trial on a charge of having in their possession, passing, and attempting to pass counterfeit fractional currency. They are to be tried at the adjourned session of the United States Circuit Court, which meets on the 21st inst.

Choice and Pure Candies.—Mr. George Beaven, of Federal street, Allegheny, enjoys the reputation of being the most expert manufacturer in this neighborhood of choice, pure candies, made from the best of sugars and syrups. He deals extensively in foreign confectioneries, fruits, &c., while his cough candy is without an equal in the country. We cheerfully commend him as a fair dealing, honorable gentleman, with whom it is a pleasure to deal.

Italian Opera Season.—We are to be favored with a visit from the celebrated Italian troupe under Max. Strakosh's direction. The company is highly spoken of by our cotemporaries, and we doubt not that our music-loving public will hail with delight their coming here. Meyerbeer's greatest work, L'Africaine, will be the chief attraction during the season, which will be limited to six nights, commencing February 4th at the Opera House.

Death of an Old Citizen.—Mr. Robert Barclay died in this city, on Wednesday, at the advanced age of seventy-seven. In former years Mr. Barclay carrried on the business of a plumber, and we understand erected the first hydrant within the limits of our municipality. His funeral will take place this morning from his late residence on the Perryville road.

Oil Lamps, &c.—One of the best assortments of oil lamps, chandeliers, &c., which is to be found in this city, is now displayed at the well-known firm of John Ross & Co., No. 64 Market Street. They keep the very best style of goods, and retail purchasers and dealers can go to no better place for selection and bargains.

Court of Common Pleas.

Before Hon. James P. Sterrett.

F. A. Dilworth for use of Joseph Dilworth vs. Work, McCouch & Co. Plaintiff claimed the defendants, who lately failed in business as bankers in Philadelphia, had, at the time of their failure, on deposit with them a balance in his favor of $26,989.45; that since their failure Messrs. Kramer & Rahm, who were members of the firm of Work, McCouch & Co., paid over to Joseph Dilworth, equitable plaintiff, the sum of $9,243.47, to applied as a credit on the above stated sum, so that there still remained due and unpaid to plaintiff by defendants $17,745.48, besides a large amount of interest. For the defense it was averred that after the failure of Work, McCouch & Co. three members of the firm, Allen Kramer, Edward Rahm and Florence Kramer, desirous of securing the Allegheny county creditors, by the aid of a loan were enabled to offer them twenty-five per cent. upon their several claims, so far as Kramer & Rahm were concerned, upon the condition that said creditors would accept the same in full satisfaction of their claims, and would upon the payment of the twenty-five per cent. release and discharge Kramer & Rahm from all further liability on account of the indebtedness of Work, McCouch & Co.; that F. A. Dilworth, legal plaintiff, with other creditors, accepted this proposition; that in making the payment of twenty-five per cent. plaintiff represented the amount due at very nearly $37,000; that the amount in the schedule of settlement was $36,958.89, upon which twenty-five per cent. would be $9,239.72; that the Dilworths requested that for certain reasons the amount paid them should vary a few dollars, a mere nominal sum, as they said, from this amount ($9,238.97), and accordingly a check was drawn for the sum of $9,243.97, being an addition of five dollars to the amount aforesaid, for which a check was given to F. A. and Joseph Dilworth, when they were together, with the full knowledge upon the part of both of them that it was in pursuance of the agreement to pay twenty-five per cent. on the amount due and the release of Kramer & Rahm from further liability; that the check was delivered, accepted and paid, and endorsed by Joseph Dilworth; further, that in point of fact the true amount due F. A. Dilworth by defendants, at the time of their failure, was about $10,000 less than the amount represented, (which fact was admitted in the affidavit of claim,) whereby plaintiff received $2,500 more than he was entitled to under the twenty-five per cent. arrangement; that when the check was given Joseph Dilworth he executed and delivered a bond, whereby he undertook and agreed, in consideration of the payment of $9,243.97, to indemnify and save harmless Kramer & Rahm from all further claims of F. A. Dilworth for or on account of the indebtedness of defendants to him.

The case occupied the attention of the Court most of the day, and shortly before adjournment the jury rendered a verdict for defendant.

Thomas Wistman vs. Archibald M'Clelland. (Execution attachment. Garnishee acknowledged $42.19 in his hands, and defendant claimed that the money was exempt from attachment, under act of Assembly. Verdict for full amount claimed.

Lewis Peterson vs. D. C. Salisburg. Appeal from judgement of Justice Little, of Tarentum in a suit for the recovery of rent due. On trial.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

Before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe.

ALLEGED INDECENT ASSAULT.

Alexander Laughlin, of West Elizabeth, employed at O'Neill's coal works, was placed on trial on an indictment charging him with having assaulted, with indecent intent, Mrs. Sarah Rapp, at McKeesport, on the 29th of October last. Mrs. Rapp was called and testified to the fact. For the defense it was shown that the defendant had been drinking very freely, and it was claimed that he was intoxicated to such an extent as to preclude the idea of a deliberate intent to commit a rape. The jury found a verdict of guilty of assault and battery.

ASSAULTING A POLICEMAN.

Christ. Bradford was arraigned on an indictment charging him with having committed an assault and battery upon David Buchanan, one of the special city policemen. The defendant, it was alleged, committed the offense while under arrest for malicious mischief. He made violent resistance to the arrest, kicking, striking and interfering with the officers who had him in charge, including the prosecutor, in every way he could. It finally became necessary to procure a wagon to convey him to the tombs, and it was during the struggle that he was alleged to have committed the assault and battery upon officer Buchanan. On trial at adjournment.

Oyer and Terminer.

Before Judges Stowe and Mellon.

AN INSANE HOMICIDE.

The case of the Commonwealth vs. Robert Mahoney, alias "Black Bob," indictment murder, was disposed of on Thursday forenoon. In the early part of December last James McCutcheon was shot by the defendant, who is a colored man, at a house in the borough of Sharpsburg, the wound proving fatal. The fact of the killing was admitted, and Gen. Collier, for the defense, put in the plea of insanity. It was proven conclusively that defendant was insane, incurably so, and the jury found a verdict of "not guilty" by reason thereof. Mahoney was remanded for the present. He will likely be sent to Dixmont, there to be kept in close confinement. He seems to labor under the hallucination that his life is in danger, and almost constantly had a loaded gun with him, with a view of defending himself.

District Court.

Before Hon. Moses H. Hampton.

A. W. Foster vs. Peter Coleman. Jury out.

Briggs & Mulverhill vs. Thomas W. Briggs Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $46.57.

James O'Connor vs. Barblett, Smith & Co. Judgment allowed for amount claimed.

"and a most loathsome tetter barked about, most lazar-like, with vile and loathsome crust, all my smooth body."

DEAR SIR:—I have been afflicted with tetter or salt rheum for about thirty years. The last ten years it turned to the erysipelas. It was of the worst kind. My whole body was covered with it. The spots over my body were as large as a copper cent. My face and eyes were covered so with it, that I was almost blind. I lost my hearing, so that I could not hear without speaking very loud to me. I tried all kinds of doctors, of every school of medicine, for years, without any benefit, and went to some a very great distance, who were celebrated as physicians. I had to have my hands tied up they were so troublesome and covered with disease. I am now well, and have been cured by taking less than a dozen bottles of your Blood Searcher, at a cost of that many dollars, where I had spent hundreds before. You may publish this if you wish for the benefit of other sufferers.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 18, 1867.

THE Republican response, from beyond the borders of Pennsylvania, to the Inaugural Address of Gov. Geary, and the speech made by Hon. Simon Cameron immediately after his election to the United States Senate, are significant of the unbiased opinion of the country. Both are pronounced admirable as to matter, and the feeling is that the loyalty of Pennsylvania will be fitly supported in the Executive Department of the State government and in the National Senate.

MR. GEORGE W. WOODWARD, in a letter written in response to an invitation from sundry respectable gentlemen, resident in this portion of the State, to be again a candidate for the Supreme bench, gracefully declines.

Of commanding presence, dignified manners, uncommon abilities, and high ambition, Mr. WOODWARD has not been successful in obtaining the honors he coveted. Confessedly a favorite with the Democratic leaders, he has never inspired the enthusiasm of the Democratic masses. His manners have been too cold and stately, his habits too aristocratic, and his social standing too eminent to constitute him an idol of the vulgar. A radical in his party—always taking the most advanced opinions, in the wrong direction, and maintaining them with remarkable cogency—he has incurred the strong dislike of the opposing party. In his private relations genial and blameless, when he vacates the bench, it will be with few or no personal enemies, and the cordial appreciation and regard of a very extended circle.

RECENTLY MR. HORACE GREELEY undertook to convert the Republicans of New York to his doctrine of granting universal amnesty in exchange for universal suffrage. He was not only repelled, but lost the Senatorship in consequence. Not at all discouraged, he has been to Washington and tried his powers of persuasion on President JOHNSON for an hour.

MR. HORACE GREELEY, in writing from Chicago into Kansas, to correct an apprehension that he was opposed to the re-election of Mr. Pomeroy to the United States Senate, availed himself of the occasion to say that for the present he was out of favor, but could wait. He added, that when the South shall be let in and the negro be left out he would be heard from.

THAT General SHERIDAN is a good soldier is very widely known. In the qualities essential to statesmanship he does not make an enviable figure. His Mexican imbroilment would have been seriously unfortunate if our Southern neighbors had power to resent commensurately the wrongs inflicted on them.

MR. BRIGHAM, of the Commercial testified before the Committee of Investigation that he had no ground but rumor for his late sweeping accusations against General CAMERON. We judge he would not like to have his own character as severely handled on no better foundation.

IT is stated in Washington correspondence that Mr. Cowan protests he did not seek the Austrian mission and is doubtful if he will take it if offered. It is not reported that a returning modesty is at the bottom of so much self abnegation.

THE fraternization of the Orleanist and Democratic deputies is a political event of significance. In times past similar coalitions have been preludes to movements which have shaken down the throne.

THE NEED OF MORE DWELLINGS

Taking into view its admirable location, and its unsurpassed facilities for manufacturing, Pittsburgh does not grow as fast, nor half as fast as might be expected, or as some other cities less favored in these respects. Its wealth increases rapidly, quite as rapidly as that of any other city, and it is probably true now, as it has ever been, that no community in the United States is better prepared to bear up under any financial or commercial crisis that may occur than this. By the term Pittsburgh, in this connection, we mean that congeries of municipalities of which Pittsburgh proper is the centre.

Why does population not keep pace with progress in other respects in this locality? It is simply because there are not houses enough to accommodate any more people, or even to render comfortable all the population we have. It is this scarcity of dwellings that has run rents up to the exhorbitant rates now demanded by owners, and which the tenants must either pay or leave. The law of supply and demand operates in this as it does in everything else; and the old plea that a thing is worth what it will bring may be as fairly and successfully urged in this matter as it is in Idaho or Montana, where a dollar is often demanded and paid for a pound of flour. It is idle to grumble about it. The effect, however, is bad every way, for this extravagant scale of rents necessitates a corresponding scale of prices for everything else, whether labor, or commodities, begetting all round an abnormal and unwholesome condition of things, and thus rendering the profitable prosecution of some branches of business impossible.

But why are dwelling houses so scarce here? Two reasons may be urged: One, that ground suitable for building upon is scarce and correspondingly high; the other, that building materials and labor have, for the past four or five years, been so enormously high, that to erect dwellings was sure to entail loss upon those who did it.

It must be admitted that ground in the city and near it is becoming scarce, but still there is much not yet unoccupied; and as facilities for reaching more distant localities are abundant, this is not so formidable an obstacle to the multiplication of dwellings as might be imagined. By the completion of the West Pennsylvania Railroad along the west bank of the Allegheny, a very large extent of excellent building ground has been brought within easy and speedy access to the city. And the removal of numerous old and ill appointed manufacturing establishments, now in the city, to localities farther out, would not only remove what are now smoke nuisances, but leave room for many beautiful blocks of buildings.

For several years, say from 1862 to 1865, inclusive, there was a disproportion between the value of houses and the cost at which they could be erected; but, high as labor and materials still are, this state of things does not now exist. Yet capitalists are still disinclined to go into the business of building, because they are looking for that "good time coming" when everything will be cheap again. But this is a delusion. Things are not going to be as they have been. Real estate will keep up, and so will rents. We do not say they will keep up to what they are now, but much above the rates which prevailed before the war. Dwellings will always be in keen demand; and money judiciously expended in their erection in 1867 will be well invested.

But whether the profit upon such investments in Pittsburgh be six per cent. or ten per cent. houses must be provided for the people who are to carry on its multifarious and over-increasing industries, or those industries will be crippled if not ruined. It was nothing but the scarcity of dwellings that enabled skilled workmen here to compel their employers, during the past four or five years, to pay them from twenty to twenty-five per cent. more wages than the same classes were getting in Philadelphia, where houses are plenty and rents lower. In fact the present stoppage of the iron mills of this city may be in a great measure attributed to the same cause. And suppose Congress should enact a tariff bill that would protect the manufacturers of our country against foreign competition, where will those of Pittsburgh be with the present inadequate supply of dwellings for their operatives? Why, perfectly at their mercy, while the operatives, in turn, will be at the mercy of their landlords. It is the true policy of these gentlemen, therefore, to invest some of their means in the erection of dwelling houses; for unless they do so, they may rest assured that no protection against foreigners will do them much good. Congress can protect them against foreign competition, but Congress cannot protect them against domestic extortion. Happily this is in their own power; and by making some investments in this way they can at once defend themselves from extortion at the hands of their workmen, and defend their workmen from extortion on the part of their landlords.

SUDDEN CONVERSION.

A few days ago the Commercial was full of wrath at SIMON CAMERON. It depicted him as a moral and political monster, whose touch was contamination, whose methods were crimes, and whose friendship infamy. Yesterday it "went back" on itself after this fashion:

> "Mr. Cameron was not our choice, nor, we think, the choice of the majority of the Republican people of the State. But he has been elected by the Legislature, and will, no doubt, represent the State faithfully and creditably in the United States Senate. Mr. Cameron is not a novice in governmental matters, and his competency to the high and important functions of the office to which he is chosen, no one, we believe, has called in question. We acquiesce, of course, in the decision constitutionally made. We think the State might have done better. It certainly might have done worse. Mr. Cameron's speech after the election, is more than unexceptionable. As a sample of his sentiments, we could ask no more than that the stock should open out as fresh and good as the sample."

Did our neighbor fall under that sorcery in the practice of which he recently denounced CAMERON as an adept? Has he CAMERON'S gold or greenbacks in his pocket? Did the old man, out of superabounding compassion, adopt him into his political family as one born out of due time? Will the laudation presently become so unqualified and intense as to suggest the need of a Legislative Committee to search out the hidden motive of it?

We see how the case stands! It is easy for an editor, glib of speech and careless of the rights and feelings of others, to hurl defamations about promiscuously. Difficulty alone appears when he is called upon to disclose what basis of fact or fancy his accusations rest upon. Hereafter let it not be said there is no persuasion or enlightenment in a Sergeant-at-arms, deputed by an Investigating Committee. When an editor has made an ass of himself by swaggering infinitely beyond his knowledge or means of proof, and has thus brought himself to the very brink of public exposure and shame, he is apt to wilt and become docile, and, with his hat under his arm, make the best apology he can, in the hope of being let off without merited punishment. Good neighbor! You buy wit very dear and in small quantities. Hold on to what you get with both hands, for no body lacks it more than you do.

THE TARIFF.

In spite of the recommendations of Secretary M'CULLOCH and Commissioner WELLS, the sentiment of the country and a high sense of expediency, has induced Congress to increase in the tariff bill, now pending before it, the impost duties on iron and wool.

As the tariff now stands the impost on unwashed wool of the lowest grade is from three to six cents a pound. Mr. WELLS proposes six cents. The Senate and House bills ten cents and ten per cent. ad valorem in addition. For wools of the second class Mr. WELL'S rates are at least doubled. On woolen cloths Mr. WELLS proposes a duty of twenty-five cents a pound, and forty cents ad valorem; while the Senate bill makes forty-five cents, the House fifty cents, and both add thirty-five per cent. ad valorem. On blankets and woolens and worsted yarns, the specific duties proposed by Mr. WELLS are doubled, the ad valorem remaining the same. On hosiery the specific duty is doubled, the ad valorem duties being unchanged. On wearing apparel, wholly or in part of wool, the duty is to be advanced from twenty-four cents to fifty. Similar advances are made all through the list.

On iron a corresponding increase of the imposts has been incorporated into the bills; but fresh classifications of many of the articles prevent precise comparisons.

If the two Houses will, without delay, compare, perfect and pass a bill, embodying the proposed changes, these two important interests, now suffering a severe paralysis, will quickly recover and resume unwonted activity. The government, moreover, will be able definitely to count on large revenues, which otherwise would fall provokingly short.

A CORRESPONDENT of the New York Tribune, writing from Constantinople, under date of December 22d, says:

> "Men here in Constantinople, who rival the Jews in their love of money, are now pouring it out like water to furnish arms, ammunition and provisions to the Cretans. What is more, volunteers are going forward steadily to their support from Turkey, Greece and Italy. Some idea of the enthusiasm which prevails may be gathered from the fact that even common shopkeepers are giving as much as five hundred dollars a month, and are pledged to continue it while the war lasts. One is almost ready, in view of such facts, to believe what the Greeks say of themselves—that the only reason why their kingdom has not flourished has been that it was too small; that patriotism was not wanting, but only a chance to display it."

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

A FEW few days since a cold worded dispatch was received among our telegrams setting forth that "the jail at Kingston, South Carolina, had been destroyed by fire and twenty-two negroes had perished in the flames." It has since transpired that the burning of the unfortunate prisoners was not accidental, as the telegram intimated, but was the result of wanton cruelty upon the part of the jail keeper and sheriff of the county. A single white prisoner confined in the prison was permitted to escape, his cell door having been thrown open by the barbarous officers, but although they knew that the negroes were perishing, they could not find sufficient authority to warrant them in liberating the prisoners from certain and horrible deaths. The knowledge of the brutal inhumanity of the sheriff and jailor, caused Major General J. C. Robinson, commanding Department of the South, to order a close and immediate examination into the affair, and the arrest of the two inhuman monsters responsible for the death of the negroes, upon the charge of murder.

TWO ROMANTIC young men of New York recently read a sensation story written to the Erie Dispatch, by a live correspondent, in which it was set forth that vast wealth was obtained by a party who had explored the sewers of New York, in the way of diamonds, silver ware, watches, &c., &c. These verdant youths immediately formed the brilliant idea of becoming immensely wealthy and laid out a programme for the exploration of the sewers of every city in the Union, commencing with Philadelphia. They at once repaired to that clean city and obtained permission from the authorities to go into the sewers. Their search, which lasted for some time, resulted in the finding of huge piles—of filth and dirt, pieces of wood, dirty clothing and rheumatism. All tattered and torn, and with dreams of wealth unrealized, they abandoned their scheme and went on their way rejoicing in the possession of more scents than they had brought with them, and perhaps more sense too.

THE annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mercantile Library Association of Philadelphia was held Tuesday evening, at the hall of that institution. The report of the Board of Directors stated the number of stockholders at 5,766; subscribers, 401; volumes added during the year 1866, by importation, 1,665; by auction purchases 1,126; by general purchases, 1,706; total, 4,687; cost, $5,721 76; average cost, $1,22 per volume. An unusually large number of these were valuable scientific, historical and philosophical works. Volumes loaned during the year, 177,603, against 169,211 in 1865. The working expenses of the institution for the year were thirty-six per cent. of the income, the latter being $27,920. Building fund, $16,886. Number of books ascertained to have been lost or stolen, 4,738 volumes.

THE Pittsburgh Republic, in a burst of enthusiasm peculiar to itself, said, in Wednesday's issue, that "the selection of General CAMERON to a seat in the United States Senate is a grand triumph of conservatism over radicalism. He is the great Representative Man of Pennsylvania." Since SIMON made his powerful speech at Harrisburg the Republic has been silent, and we modestly inquire how it likes the triumph of Conservatism over Radicalism? Mr. CAMERON is truly the "great Representative Man of Pennsylvania," and the Conservatives are welcome to the victory they pretend to find in his election.

The Story of the Fourth of March, 1865—Where John on Got His Brandy.

A correspondent of the Boston Commonwealth, writing from Washington, tells the following spicy story, setting forth where Andrew Johnson got his brandy on the memorable Fourth of March, 1865:

The scene on March 4th, 1865, when Andrew Johnson disgraced himself, and almost degraded the high office he was elected to fill, I have heard related, without restraint, by a gentleman to whom Vice President Hamlin told it. It runs thus:

Mr. Hamlin was in the room known as the Vice President's, about eleven o'clock, when the Vice President elect arrived. There was nothing unusual in his appearance, except that he did not seem in robust health. The usual courtesies being exchanged, conversation proceeded on ordinary topics for a few minutes, when Mr. Johnson asked Mr. Hamlin if he had any liquor in the room, stating that he was sick and nervous. He was told there was none, but it could be sent for. Brandy being indicated, a bottle was brought out by one of the pages. It was opened, a tumbler provided, and Mr. Johnson poured it about two-thirds full. Mr. Hamlin said, in telling it, that if Mr. Johnson ordinarily took such drinks as that, he must be able to stand a great deal. After a few minutes the bottle was placed in one of the book-cases, out of sight.

When near twelve o'clock, the sergeant-at-arms, Mr. Brown, came to the door, and suggested that the gentlemen get ready to enter the chamber. Mr. Hamlin rose, moved to the door near which the sergeant-at-arms stood, and suggested to Mr. Johnson to come also. The latter got up and walked nearly to the door, when, turning to Mr. Hamlin, he said, "Excuse me a moment," and walked back hastily to where the bottle was deposited. Mr. Hamlin saw him take it out, pour as large a quantity as before into the glass, and drink it down like water. They then went into the Senate chamber.

What followed will not soon be forgotten. The foregoing I believe to be a correct version of "how Andy got his brandy."

THERE are upwards of one thousand paper mills in operation in the United States. The capital employed by these mills is not far from $40,000,000, and the production of the different styles of paper is about 1,200 tons a day. The prices of the better qualities of rags have ruled at the East from $160 to $200 per ton, and poor qualities from $110 to $140 per ton. To produce the estimated amount of paper per annum involves the consumption of 37,500 tons of paper rags, which cost, according to the average ruling prices, in the aggregate, $60,000,000. These figures, which are derived from recent data, show the vast extent of the paper interest in this country. Within the past four years the prices of paper stock and paper have doubled.

ANOTHER specimen of Southern loyalty is found in the following extract from the Clarksville (Tenn.) Chronicle:

> "The feasts, gotton up in honor of the vagabond Congressional Committee, strolling through the South, send up a bad odor to the nostrils of true and uncontaminated Southerners. We can see, in imagination, the expression of mingled sorrow and contempt portrayed upon the features of the martyr prisoner of Fortress Monroe, as he reads that his vilest enemies are feasted and lionized on the soil where the battles for freedom were fought, and by the men for whom he now suffers."

TO CONSUMPTIVES—TO CONSUMPTIVES. CHEER UP! CHEER UP!—A specific has been found at last—one that has cured consumption in the very worst stages. When the best physicians had given up the case as hopeless, the Rev. E. A. WILSON'S Great Remedy for Consumption was tried as a forlorn hope, and like a miracle, the patient was restored to complete health, and now lives to testify to the virtues of this great remedy.

Call or send and procure a pamphlet, giving a full history of this great specific.

A NEFARIOUS BUSINESS.—It is the richly freighted ship that is tracked by the robbers of the sea; and on the same principle, it is the popular specific that the land buccaneers, called counterfeiters, select for their shining mark.

HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS

Stand pre-eminent among the medicinal preparations in this country. The demand for them is something wonderful, unparalleled; hence the counterfeiters know full well that if they can impose their fiery fluids upon the people as that famous tonic, they can make fortunes by the fraud. They are now at work. Detectives are on the trail of some of them, and others have been already brought to book. Let the public second the proprietors in their efforts to baffle the reckless scoundrels who seek at once to poison the community and swindle the firm that has produced the finest Vegetable Bitters ever manufactured. Thinking to dodge the law, the counterfeiters are affixing to their bottles names resembling in orthography and sound that of HOSTETTER, such as "Hochstetter," "Hoofstetter," and the like. Will the public be kind enough to look to this, and to see also that the label is all right, with its vignette of St. George and the Dragon, and its tiny note of hand, signed "HOSTETTER & SMITH." The proprietors will do their part to protect the million from imposition, and they ask the million to be on the alert against the plotters against their health. HOSTETTER & SMITH.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Important to Banks and Special Depositors.

Much interest is felt, says the Philadelphia North American, in the question of the extent of the liability of banks in receiving for safe keeping the boxes and valuables of their depositors. Recent heavy robberies of bonds and securities in different parts of the country have shown the insecurity of private safes; and the increasing frequency of the loss of boxes and packages deposited with banks show the necessity of further safeguards. In Cincinnati, in a late case the decision was against the bank; while in Massachusetts, in a case where a package containing bonds had been deposited with a cashier, and was embezzled by him, the Court held that the bank was not liable, on the ground that the service rendered was not only gratuitous, but being beyond the legitimate sphere of the cashier's duties, the corporation was not responsible. In a New Orleans Court a bank was lately made responsible for a wrong delivery of a box specially deposited, but in the case of the Marine Bank of New York, where a box containing over $200,000 of bonds and securities unaccountably disappeared, the loss seems to have been acquiesced in by the depositor. In the suit against one of our city banks, a few months since, Judge Cadwalader reviewed the law very ably, but a non-suit having been taken, there was no final decision. But we observe by the Boston papers that the responsibility of the banks in regard to this class of special deposits is about to be tested. A firm in that city deposited in the vault of one of the banks a trunk containing a large amount of valuable securities. The trunk is missing, and the depositor has brought suit for its value against the bank.

Whatever may be the legal decision in this matter, the Boston banks have reached a practical solution of this difficulty which must be recorded as prudent. They have given notice to their depositors to remove their trunks from their bank vaults; the directors of these institution "not wishing the spirit of accommodation to be construed into a responsibility for property which is looked upon as an inconvenient incumbrance."

Few persons have any idea of the extent of this accommodation on the part of some of our city banks. Some of them have from four to five hundred of these boxes and trunks, containing property of immense value, and occupying space entirely beyond the capacity of the principal vaults or safes. The safe keeping and delivering of property of this kind involves risks, from the carelessness or dishonesty of subordinates and other causes, of no small magnitude; and it is questionable whether stockholders should be exposed so great a peril without any corresponding advantage.

The existing custom of specie deposits with our banks has grown up in the infancy of the county, and when it was comparatively poor; the enormous development of business and wealth among our people has rendered a different system a necessity. And it seems to us that it would be wise on the part of our banks and depositors to conform to it.

Disappeared.

The following case of mysterious disappearance is reported in the Bradford Reporter: About November 1st, an old man named William Straney, aged about 70 years, left his home at Susquehanna Depot, on a visit to a son at Nicholas, Pa. A few days ago his friends at the Depot, who had been expecting him, and there learned that he had set out on his return home on the 28th of November. Inquiry was made at each station along the road between this point and Nicholson, but no tidings could be gained of the missing man. He had a considerable sum of money with him, and it is feared that he has been robbed, and perhaps murdered. When he started on his return his son saw him safely aboard the train, and remained at the depot until after the train had left. Although an old man, Mr. S. was very lively and robust, and quite able to take care of himself under almost any circumstances. He was of large size, a little bald, and wore a small side whisker, sandy in color, and slightly sprinkled with grey. Any information relating to him will be thankfully received by John Montgomery, his son-in-law, at Susquehanna Depot, or James Straney, Nicholson, Wyoming Co., Pa.

Fracas.

A disturbance occurred in one of the down town saloons last night, says the Erie Dispatch, that might have resulted in the most serious manner. Captain Hamilton, Captain Christy and John Carse entered the saloon, Hamilton being the worse for liquor. He had a few words with Carse, and Carse replied to him in a bantering tone, which seemed to rouse his anger, for he immediately drew out a pistol and cocked it as he said to Carse, "I'll shoot you, d—n you." Captain Christy, seeing the immediate danger, sprang forward to hinder him, and caught hold of the barrel of the pistol, when it was instantly discharged, the ball passing through Captain Christy's left hand between the lower bones of the thumb and forefinger, inflicting an ugly wound, although luckily no bones were broken. Captain Christy's prompt action, severe as the penalty is to himself, was probably the saving of Mr. Carse's life, as Hamilton would in all probability have executed his drunken threat. The revolver was instantly wrenched from Hamilton's hand and the police were immediately sent for, and Hamilton conveyed to jail. He will probably have a hearing to-day.

Boorish Passengers.

The following is from the Oil City Register: We notice on the Pithole Branch Railroad, the passengers enjoy the most unlicensed freedom. There is only one passenger car on the train, and of course all the passengers are crowded into it. We had occasion to ride over the road on Monday morning, and saw five or six of the male passengers indulging in what was to them, no doubt, a comfortable smoke, without seeming to take into consideration that there were a considerable number of lady passengers on board to whom smoking was probably very offensive, as it usually is to ladies. The smoke for a time was very dense in the car. If a man will not observe the proprieties of life while traveling, but will insist on acting the boor, he should be made to behave himself. We were surprised to notice that such a display of ungentlemanly conduct in the car was allowed by the conductor. It is certainly his duty to prevent such impositions on lady passengers, and now that we have called his attention to the matter we trust he will prevent the abuse in future.

Affray.

From the Juniata Sentinel we take the following: On Monday last, quite a serious affray occurred at the Cuba Mills, about a mile and a half above this place, between Solomon Kauffman and John M Bartley. It appears, from what we can learn, that they had been quarreling for some time, and on Monday, Mr. Bartley went to the mill for the purpose of removing some property, when Mr. Kaufman fearing violent hands might be laid on him, went into the mill and fastened the door. Bartly broke open the door and was in the act of entering when Mr. Kaufman struck him over the head with a bar of iron, knocking him down. Medical aid was immediately summoned, and we have been informed by the physician in attendance, that although the skull is cracked the patient will recover. In the meantime, Mr. Kaufman came to town and surrendered himself to the proper authorities, and was released on giving necessary bail.

The Cammels are Gone.

Says the Franklin Repository: "Bill Cammel, well known in the lower end of this county, died at the Alms House, on Friday the 4th inst. Bill is the last of a large family, all of whom led a vagrant life. Gipsy in their habit, they dwelt along the South Mountain, and lived principally by begging. They all possessed a peculiar love for the marvellous, and were fond of telling wonderful stories, which in Bill's case, followed him to the last hour of life. When asked by a bystander a few minutes before his last, how old he was, he reported the years of his sojourn and pilgrimage on earth to be 100 next May—real age perhaps 60.

Devilish.

The Lewisburg Chronicle relates the following atrocious act: "On Wednesday morning of this week, Dr. Thronton, of this place, found the tongue of a valuable horse cut entirely out, and lying in the feed trough. The perpetrator of this most fiendish, inhuman act is not known. We really did not suppose that in our community there could be a human being so totally deprived of humanity as to deal thus with an innocent irrational creature. This dastardly act deserves the severest punishment known to our laws. A man who could be guilty of such a deed would not hesitate to commit murder.

Snow.

We have now from twenty to twenty-four inches of snow, very unequally distributed, says the Somerset Herald and Whig. The roads are very much "drifted," the tracks meandering through the adjacent fields, in all the roads that run north and south. The sleighing is therefore a little more perilous, the spark of danger perhaps adding zest to the pursuit. The merry jingle of the bells is heard constantly, wheels have been banished for some weeks, and all our public conveyances, go and come on "runners."

Wild Turkeys.—The Huntingdon Journal and American says: A great number of wild turkeys have been killed during the fall and winter by our sportsmen. We understand that several fine gobblers have been trapped. It is fine sport to hunt these birds, but there is nothing sportsmanlike in capturing them in traps or pens, and we hope Maj. Wharton will have a law enacted this winter making it an indictable offence to trap or pen turkeys. If we had a law for the protection of turkeys similar to that for pheasants and other game it would be but a short time before our woods would abound with these birds. Let the law be passed, by all means, and it will be hailed with delight by all our hunters.

Winter Fishing.—A party of gentlemen from Saucon township, Lehigh county, visited Porter's Pond, a few days since, on a fishing excursion. They met with unusual success, catching in three days over six hundred Pickerel.

New Publications.

ALEXANDER STEPHENS, in Public and Private Life, with letters and speeches, before, during, and since the War. By Henry Cleveland. National Publishing Co., Philadelphia.

Mr. Stephens has been brought into uncommon prominence, not by accident, but by possession of unusual powers. If he had been moulded under the influence of northern ideas and institutions he would have been favorable to the largest progress and contributed in no small degree to the advancement of liberty and civilization. But it fell to his lot to be identified with the South, and he necessarily took on a certain coloring from his surroundings. Confessedly one of the ablest men of his section, and one of the best, a sketch of his life and labors, well done, as this is, cannot be other than a valuable contribution to contemporaneous history.

NEW MUSIC.—J. L. Peters & Bro., Cincinnati and St. Louis, send us:

"Little Beauty," by Charles Kinkle.

"Let the Dead and the Beautiful Rest," song and chorus; words by C. C. Butter, music by S. Wesley Martin.

"Shamus O'Brien," song and chorus, by W. S. Hays.

"Pink of Perfection," by Louis Wallis.

"Mary's Waiting at the Window," by W. S. Hays.

Arrested on Bail Piece.

Our readers will remember that some time in December the cellar of Mr. Mansfield, on Lacock street, Allegheny, was entered and robbed of a quantity of provisions. The thieves were tracked for a distance by flour which spilled from a sack they had stolen, and a day or two afterwards Joseph Allen and Thomas Jackson were arrested, charged with the burglary. Allen was committed to jail by Mayor Morrison to await his trial, and Jackson was held to bail for Court in the sum of $300, Mr. Robert Iverson becoming his security. On Tuesday Mr. Iverson became convinced that Jackson intended to leave this vicinity and evade his trial, and therefore went before Mayor Morrison and swore out a bail piece against him. Officer Campbell, of the Allegheny police, started in pursuit of the would-be fugitive, and after tracking him over half of the city of Pittsburgh, succeeded in finding him in a house on Wylie street. He arrested the prisoner and lodged him in jail at nine o'clock Tuesday evening, where the fellow now calmly reposes.

Free Passes.—On January 9th, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company issued a circular, making public the following resolution recently adopted by the Directors:

Resolved, That this Company will decline to issue free passes, except for purely charitable purposes, and such others as in the option of the President may be absolutely required by the interests of the Company. Further, that no officers of this Company but the President shall issue free passes except to employees when traveling on the business of the Company, unless specially authorized by the President.

Incendiarism.—Incendiarism seems to be rife in Carlisle. Two fires took place there last week, one breaking out on Monday morning, in a stable, in the rear of the extensive machine shops of F. Gardner & Co., which was destroyed, with the boiler shop and another large frame building and two fine horses—the other on Tuesday morning, in the auction and ware room belonging to Robert McCartney, Esq., in the rear of the Market House. Both fires are said to have been undoubtedly perpetrated by incendiaries.

Change of Time of Closing Western Mails.—A change of time in the closing of the Western mails has been made as follows: The mails for Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Louisville, Nashville, and St. Joseph, which have heretofore been closed at 1.25 P. M., will hereafter be closed nearly an hour sooner, viz: 12.45. The change is made to avoid detention at connecting points.

Agricultural Students.—During the past year one hundred and fourteen students from all parts of the Union have attended the Agricultural College of Pennsylvania, and we hear that about twice this number will be in attendance during 1867, under the new programme of labor and studies. The professors are all men of ability and thoroughly competent to fulfil the duties of their position.

Horses Stolen.—On the night of Wednesday two valuable mares were stolen from the stable of Martin Foster, of Wilkins township, in this county. Information of the whereabouts of the animals, suspected of having been stolen, may be sent to Chief Hague, of this city, or to Mr. Foster, the owner.

Almost Hurt.—The escape steam cock of the boiler belonging to Well No. 5, Holden Farm, burst on Saturday and the steam and hot water were thrown out with great violence. Fortunately the engineer was not in direct range of the boiling liquid and escaped without injury.

And when my stock is all sold out I'll get a fresh supply.
Since money is so plenty now, and greenbacks in good credit,
Do come and buy some bran new Shoes, you never will regret it.

And if your shoes have sprung a leak, do come and get them mended.

Also, 12 acres adjoining the above, unimproved, for sale low. This piece is also all underlaid with coal.

The above three pieces of property lie between the Little Saw Mill Run and Steubenville Railroads, and the coal can be reached easily from either road. The coal alone is worth all that is asked for the entire property.

MISCELLANEOUS.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.

GURNER & CO.,

No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unprecedented and unrivalled popularity is not without merit. They have only to be fairly tested to give them the preference over all others. As a purifier of blood they excel all other Wines, and the numerous certificates which have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, are proof conclusive that these Wines are useful in all cases for which they are recommended.

The following brands are now offered by us. They comprise all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, or HOCK WINE—Of a light straw colored, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it makes fine wheys and jellies. It is a fine dessert wine, and well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhea.

This is one of the most valuable combinations of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has ever been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and wherever introduced it has proved a welcome addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner, whose stomachs are out of order, and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from general debility; children of sickly nature and sour, dyspeptic constitutions; travelers who have occasion to change their water; and all who live in malarious districts and are subject to miasmatic influences, will find it one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that in offering it to the public now we deem it unnecessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms in its favor. All that we can say is to guarantee that we will pledge ourselves to furnish an article PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl, in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill has been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She began with but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

KENNEDY--SCHOYER LIBEL CASE.

Defendant Not Allowed to Justify—Verdict of Guilty—Motion for a New Trial.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions, Thursday morning, before Hon. Edwin H. Stowe, the case of the Commonwealth vs. John B. Kennedy, indicted for a libel "of and concerning Solomon Schoyer," was resumed.

THE "JUSTIFICATION" PROPOSAL.

Hon. P. C. Shannon, (in the absence of Mr. Swartzwelder, unavoidably detained by the snow interfering with trains on the Connellsville Railroad,) referred to the proposition made at the adjournment on Wednesday evening, to offer evidence tending to preclude the presumption of malice on the part of the defendant in writing the alleged libellous article, the allegations contained therein having been learned by him from others. The counsel for the prosecution had put forth the challenge that if Mr. Kennedy, the defendant, would write out and sign his name to a statement alleging the assertions in the article to be true, they (the counsel for prosecution) would allow the defendant opportunity to offer the truth in evidence.

Judge Stowe was quite clear in his opinion that the offer of the defense could not be sustained upon any legal authority, and would decline to hear further argument by counsel on the other side. As to the proposition mutually agreed upon Wednesday evening, His Honor said that consent did give jurisdiction. It would be manifestly improper, not only in a legal sense, but upon the ground of public policy, to open the door so wide and occupy the time of the Court, perhaps for days, in hearing the investigation proposed.

Judge Shannon said every defendant was presumed to be innocent until proven guilty. Such was the position of Mr. Kennedy. Counsel for the prosecution had, somewhat defiantly and with a show of triumph, put forth the challenge to defendant to prove the truth of what he had asserted, which challenge had been accepted, and in pursuance of it defendant had reduced to writing, to which he would affix his signature, what he was prepared to establish as going to justify the publication of the alleged libellous article. The Court interrupted the counsel, his remarks being calculated to serve no good purpose, inasmuch as the question had been decided.

Mr. Hampton, for the prosecution, said Mr. Schoyer, the prosecutor, was willing to stand by the proposition made on Wednesday evening.

[We may be allowed to state that Mr. Schoyer expressed his disappointment at the ruling of the Court which deprived defendant of the opportunity of justifying; but he will doubtless have full opportunity to do so on the civil side of the Court, where the law allows justification on the question of damages.—Rep.]

All legal points having been disposed of, the defendant's counsel stated they had no further evidence to offer, and the case was submitted without argument.

CHARGE TO THE JURY.

Judge Stowe charged the jury: This case has been tried with great care, and the counsel for the the defense have manifested great ability and skill. We have tried to be as just as possible, because it is not very often we have occurrences of this kind in court. Although libels are very frequently published, they are seldom prosecuted. It may seem a hardship not to allow the evidence offered to come into court. If the defendant could show us authority for passing our opinion in his favor, we should examine carefully before deciding upon the subject. This matter is of considerable importance to the public, and they are the chief parties involved. In a case where the party defendant seeks to vindicate himself, and appeals to civil proceedings, the truth can be given. If the slander is established, the amount of damages should be such as the jury think a sufficient compensation to the party for the wrong done him. The question here is whether the defendant wrote and published (published is sufficient,) the article charged in the indictment, and whether such publication has injured the character of Mr. Schoyer, the prosecutor. In other words, whether it is malicious. The article refers to Mr Riddle, speaks of his connection with the Gazette, and says he "got up a kind of Gift Concert Lottery Arrangement," by which he and the "little Shylock Sol," "diddled" the owners out of $50,000 or $60,000. The matters referring to Mr. Riddle can have no bearing upon the case. It was the duty of the jury to put a construction upon this part of the article. "He got up a kind of Gift Concert Lottery," &c. The allegation is that the article means that by certain false pretenses Mr. Schoyer "diddled" or swindled parties to the extent mentioned. The jury would inquire, first, what is the meaning of the word "diddled." As had been remarked, the jury were the judges of the facts in this case as well as in others. They should apply the law to the facts. The Court, originally, put the construction on libellous publications, taking it from the hands of the jury. This is not the law in Pennsylvania. It was for the jury in this case to say whether the article published is libellous or not, and whether defendant published it.

"A libel is a malicious publication expressed either in printing or writing, or by signs and pictures, tending either to blacken the memory of one dead, or the reputation of one who is alive, and expose him to public hatred, contempt or ridicule. The cause why libellous publications are offences against the State is their direct tendency to a breach of the public peace, by provoking the parties injured and their friends and families to acts of revenge which it would not be easy to restrain, were offenses of this kind not severely punished. And every day's experience would justify the law in attributing to libels that tendency which renders the publication of them an offense against the State. The essence of the offense consists in the malice of the publication or the intent to defame the reputation of another. In the definition of a libel, as an offense against law, it is not considered whether the publication be true or false; because a man may maliciously publish the truth against another, with intent to defame his character, and if the publication be true, the tendency of it to inflame the passions, and to excite revenge, is not diminished, but may sometimes be strengthened. The inference is therefore very clear, that the defendant cannot justify himself for publishing a libel, merely by proving the truth of the publication. Although the truth of the words is no justication in a criminal prosecution for libel, yet the defendant may repel the charge by proving that the publication was for a justifiable purpose, and not malicious, nor with the intent to defame any man. And there may be cases, where the defendant, having proven the purpose justifiable, may give in evidence the truth of the words, when such evidence will tend to negative the malice and intent to defame." [Commonwealth vs. Clapp. Mass. Rep. Vol 4.]

Is this article, His Honor continued, in its fair natural meaning, as the jury understand it, calculated to injure the reputation of Mr. Schoyer, the prosecutor, hold him up to ridicule, or affect his reputation as a man of integrity. If so, it is libellous. In considering the meaning of the word "diddled," it was not necessary that reference should be made to the Dictionary, and the jury must decide by reading it in the connection they understand it. The essence of the libel is the intent in publishing it. Whether true or not, was not the question. The defendant may, however, show that the statement in the publication was justifiable. Here we have excluded all the evidence on the part of the defense tending to prove justification. The name of a private citizen is mentioned in the article, and there is no justification, nothing which relieves the party from the imputation of malice, arising from the publication of the article. If the jury think its character is such as to make it libellous, and derogatory to the character of the prosecutor, they should give him a verdict. Persons writing are supposed to consider what the effect of their writing will be. Upon the qustion of malice, it is said to be a necessary ingredient in libel. Malice, in a legal sense, is a wrongful act done without cause or excuse. If there was malice in the publication in question, and the jury so believed, their verdict should be guilty. If they did not so believe, then they must acquit.

At the request of counsel for defendant, Judge Stowe said to the jury: It will be for you to find, in reference to the libel, whether the meaning, as alleged in the indictment, is correct. If you should think it not to be as alleged, then the indictment is not sustained.

His Honor further said it was for the jury to consider whether, in the use of the word "diddled," Mr. Schoyer was referred to. If not, the verdict must be not guilty.

VERDICT OF GUILTY.

The jury retired, and after a brief absence returned, having agreed upon a verdict of "guilty." Mr. Swartzwelder made a motion in arrest of judgment.

Early Birds that get Caught.

At about one o'clock yesterday morning, a party of roughs consisting of John Muller, August Moll, William Brown, Fred. Fauber, John Seamen, H. Ward and a fellow known known only by the cognomen of "Scraps," went the tavern of John Glosser, on Ohio street, in the Third ward Allegheny, and in the most positive and peremptory manner, demanded admittance. After much delay they were permitted to enter, when they immediately demanded drinks. These were refused, and they insisted in having "sardines," as if any more were needed in the party. At length they got hold of a keg of ale, which they insisted on rolling out of doors and carrying away with them. On this movement being resisted they commenced a course of most disorderly proceedings, making a great disturbance and breaking up things quite extensively. Officers Ecke and Bolster, of the night police, were soon on hand, interfering, and succeeded in arresting Seamen and Ward. The others escaped. The two prisoners were locked up, and in the morning at the hearing were made to pay fifty dollars and costs, after which they were permitted to take themselves away.

Larceny as Bailee.

On Wednesday Daniel Thompson, a colored man, residing on Wylie street, came before Alderman Donaldson and preferred a charge of larceny as bailee against another shady individual named Wm. Carter. The deponent alleges that some days since he lent a silver watch to a young lady, named Isabella Green. Subsequently she informed him that she had let Carter have it to wear, and he refused to return it. Mr. Thompson endeavored himself to get the watch from defendant, but without success. He therefore made the information as stated. Officer Lutze arrested Carter on Wednesday evening at the Colored Fair at City Hall, where the merry fellow was disporting in a most festive manner. The prisoner was admitted to bail for a further hearing. The watch was found secreted in the trunk of defendant's mother at her residence on Wylie street.

Arrested and Discharged.

On Wednesday Mr. George Schoonmaker, of the firm of J. Schoonmaker & Son, proprietors of the Pioneer Paint Works, Allegheny, made information before Mayor Morrison, charging James Ferguson and George Daly, two colored boys, residing in the Seventh ward of this city, with the larceny of a pair of gold sleeve buttons and a pair of gloves from deponent. Officers Scott and Campbell, of the Allegheny police, were sent in pursuit of the alleged thieves, and succeeded in arresting them at their homes. The prisoners and their premises were searched, but nothing was found in any way to support the charge against them, and they were discharged by the Mayor.

Family Disturbance.—Officer Hess, of the Allegheny police, yesterday arrested James Campbell, a colored laborer, residing in the Third ward, Allegheny, on a charge of disorderly conduct preferred by Archie Taylor, son-in-law of the accused. The two families reside in the same house and have great trouble in getting along together. On Wednesday evening they had an unusually lively quarrel, and the demonstrations of the old man induced the information mentioned. As we stated, the old man was arrested and is in the lock-up awaiting a hearing.

A Good Selection.—The selection by the Allegheny City Councils of John C. McCombs, Esq., as City Solicitor, reflects the highest credit upon their judgment. He is a gentleman thoroughly read in the law, and will perform his duties in the most creditable manner. His office is located immediately opposite the GAZETTE building, on Fifth street, where, in addition to his legal business, he gives careful attention to the collection of pensions, bounties and arrears of pay from the Government. We cheerfully commend him to the attention of our friends.

Wife Desertion.—George W. Dawson, charged with desertion on oath of his wife, Margaret J. Dawson, had a hearing before Mayor McCarthy, on Wednesday, which resulted in his being held for appearance at Court. Michael Dillon, charged with desertion on oath of his wife, Honora Dillon, also had a hearing before the Mayor, which resulted in his being held to bail for his appearance at Court.

Finally Committed.—Benjamin Simmons, charged before Mayor McCarthy, on oath of Robert Armstrong, with stealing a barrel of molasses from the store of Weitzel & Armstrong on the corner of First and Market streets, had a final hearing yesterday, before the Mayor, and in default of bail was committed to jail to answer at Court.

Discharged.—Henry Slater and John Gillick, the boys charged with stealing coal from some cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad, had a hearing before the Mayor yesterday morning, which resulted in their discharge, there being no evidence whatever to warrant the Mayor in holding them.

The Mails.—We are informed that on and after January 17th, 1867, the mail for the points herein named, will close at 12:45 P. M., viz: Cleveland, Columbus, Cincinnati, Detroit, Toledo, Indianapolis, Louisville, Nashville, St. Louis and St. Joseph.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 136½@136¾; Eighty-one bonds, 108; Five Twenties, old 107¾; Five Twenties, '65, 105⅜; Five Twenties, new, 104⅛; Seven Thirties, 104⅛; Michigan Southern R. R., 79½; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 89¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 98⅜; Erie, Railroad, 64; Western Union Telegraph Co., 46; Chicago & Rock Island, 100¼; Chicago and North Western R. R., 42⅞; Ohio, 26⅞; Canton, 47; Mariposa, 12½; New York Central, 108½; Hudson, 120; Michigan Central, 105; preferred, 79¾.

The Eastern market is steady on National securities, unsteady but advancing in gold, while Railways are down heavily. The season is very unpropitious for Railroads. The heavy snows, and the long cold spell, begin to tell with effect upon the receipts of the various roads. The fall business on all the Western and Northern roads was very poor, both in freight and passenger receipts, and the prospects for the coming season so far as they can be anticipated are by no means flattering. More than one of them will have to cease passing dividends upon stock unless there is a speedy and large change for the better. We look for lower quotations upon the entire list. A project is afoot to increase the capital stock of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road 20,000 shares, half to go to the improvement of the road, and the rest to the stockholders as a dividend at 50 per cent of the par value.

The gold board is active, and rates are more firm. They fluctuated yesterday between 35¼ and 37. Government sold half a million, which caused a temporary decline, but to-day rates are up to within ¼ on the highest point touched yesterday. It is evident from the unsettled condition of the market, and immense imports that Secretary McCulloch projected a resumption of specie payments will have to be re-considered.

Our home market for bonds and stocks of the best description, remains firm at previous quotations. County and city securities have been somewhat sought after of late, though, prices are about the same. Allegheny Valley Railroad bonds are offered at 88, ex-January interest, at which, it is said, sales have been made during the week. Bank stocks, notwithstanding the demand for money, continue to sell at full prices. Bridge and Gas are nearly up to quotations previous to dividend. Insurance stocks quiet. In oils, there is nothing doing—reported sales of Columbia at 9¼, which is above the market. Triumph hangs at about 1. Marine at 1,50 to 1,80.

—The proposition of Mr. Randall, of Pennsylvania, in the House of Representatives, to do away with the present National Banking system, and substitute in lieu thereof the legal tender Treasury notes, is attracting considerable attention. The scheme, according to the Washington reports, meets with favor in both houses. Some of the ablest financial men in New York, Boston and other places, according to the Tribune, have addressed letters to the committee urging its adoption. If this plan is successful, then the national banks will go the way of the state banks, and federal paper become the sole circulating medium. The National banks probably have too many friends in Congress to put through any measure like this, though it would save a good many millions to the government. The disposition of the House just now, however, seems clearly to be in favor of inflating the Government currency and against increasing the National bank issue.

—A Washington dispatch says the proposition of Secretary McCulloch to make the interest upon our bonds held in foreign countries payable in those countries, is said to have been a measure of precaution on his part, affording as it would, a more safe feeling on the part of holders in the event of political turmoil in this country. It is doubted, however, whether the proposition will be carried.

—The New York bank statement for the week ending Saturday was more favorable than was generally expected, and its influence was reassuring. The first item that arrests attention in the return is that of the specie, which shows an increase of $1,818,685, and the second, that of the legal-tenders, which shows a decrease of $1,779,751, the inference to be deduced from which is that the banks lent legal tenders on gold, the drain on currency southward being smaller than is generally supposed and insufficient to account for the change. The loans show an increase of $1,083,028, and the circulation of $62,324, while the deposits have only decreased in the trifling sum of $15,956.

—The Shipping List remarks: One great fault of Mr. McCulloch's management, in our estimation, is his lack of a settled policy. But for this in connection with the unfortunate state of our political affairs, there can scarcely be a doubt that the national credit would have occupied a much more exalted position than it does at present, in view of the immense revenue collected during the past year, and the cheerfulness with which it borne by the people. The public credit and the commerce and industry of the country are the principal sufferers; enterprise of all kinds has become restricted, and business rendered extra hazardous by the high and continually fluctuating prices which are the direct results of the present uncertain condition of the financial and political affairs. It is plain, we think, that there can be no permanent prosperity for any class or any section until there shall be any end to the present anomalous condition of things; for nothing can compensate the depressed commerce and industry of the country in the absence of the leading conditions of of successful progress—national unity and stability.

—The total increase of national bank notes since June 10, 1865, has been over one hundred and sixty millions. If we deduct the decrease in legal tenders during the corresponding period from this amount, we find that the aggregate circulation in legal tenders and national bank notes has been augmented to the extent of twenty-six millions since the beginning of June, 1865. Against this aggregate increase must, of course, be offset the old State bank notes, of which some fifty millions have been withdrawn.

—We find the following statement in regard to the failure of Lyday & Chorpening in the Springfield, Ohio, Republican:

When it became generally known on the street that, Mr. John F. Chorpening had failed, the universal feeling was that of sorrow and condolence. He is a man who was and is highly esteemed—liberal, generous, free-hearted, and so far as is known, a careful business manager. Hence it is that but one suit, and that for $250, has been brought, as a result of this failure, and we have just now learned that that even has been withdrawn. This indicates the spirit of forbearance toward the unfortunate parties of this community, and its confidence in their integrity.

We hesitated about bringing the matter before the public in our columns, but statements in print elsewhere render it necessary.

I. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, signing himself "C," speaks of the failure of Messrs. Chorpening, Ludlow & Ferrell. There has been no such failure. The firm of Ferrell, Ludlow & Chorpening, to which this person refers, is not affected by Mr. Chorpening's misfortunes.

II. The Cincinnati Gazette publishes, editorially, the following paragraph:

"The heavy failure of J. F. Chorpening, at Springfield, Ohio, is creating much excitement and consternation in that community. Mr. Chorpening was a member of the firm of Lyday & Co., extensive oil dealers at Pittsburgh—was, indeed, the principal member and became involved by the recent heavy decline in petroleum. Our Springfield special says his liabilities will amount $200,000 in that city, and $100,000 in Pittsburgh. Mr. Chorpening was considered one of the most reliable business men in the Upper Miami Valley, and several individuals in Springfield have been ruined outright or badly crippled by this disaster. The facts are that the liabilities in Pittsburgh are not quite $100,000, and in Springfield a little upwards of that sum—making about $200,000 in all. Mr. Chorpening has turned over all his property for the benefit of his Springfield creditors, and as all parties are doing, evidently, the very best they can in the circumstances, the public feeling toward them is kind and considerate.

CATTLE.

The market for cattle has been rather dull this week, the transactions in the aggregate being unusually light, and compared with last week, prices are a fraction lower. The Philadelphia market was a hard one this week, and consequently, Philadelphia buyers were a little shy, and bought only when they could do so at concessions, and, we believe, there was but one New York buyer in attendance. The arrivals, however, were hardly as large as usual, though the supply was fully up to the demand; and in addition to the receipts from the west, there was quite a number driven over from the Allegheny Yards, which helped to swell the otherwise limited offerings. There is another noticeable feature in the market this week, and that is the quality of the cattle, generally speaking, was of an inferior order. As will be seen by reference to the sales, 7½ is the highest price reported, though we have no doubt, prime to extra cattle would have brought 7½ to 7¾, and possibly 8 cents. Common cattle, as has been the case for some time, were in good supply and dull, selling at 3½ to 5¾, while fairish heifers and steers in pretty good condition, may be quoted at 6 to 6½.

SWINE.

The market has been firm this week, with a demand fully up to the supply, and prices although without decided change, have been well maintained, ranging from 6 to 6¼ for fair to good heavy averges, 6,35 to 6,40 for prime shipping Hogs, and 6,50, and even 6,65 was paid for a few bunches of "picked," Hogs, but these are outside quotations and do not fairly indicate the general range of prices. Hedges & Co. bought 4 car loads at 6,20 to 6,25; Gilchreist & Reyenthaler, 12 car loads at 6,25 to 6,50; Orr & Mace, 8 car loads at 6 to 6,25; Crouse, Emerick & Co. 12 car loads at 6,20 to 6,45; and Singer & Imhoff, 10 car loads at 6,25 to 6,65. These are but a small proportion of the transactions of the past week, but the above are among the most prominent shippers, and we give their operations merely to enable the reader to form a pretty good idea of the condition of the market.

SHEEP.

The receipts of Sheep were again fair this week, but with a good demand and a fair number of buyers in attendance, the market ruled steady and prices ranged from 4¼ to 6 cts, gross—it is possible an extra bunch would have brought 6¼. Hesser reports having bought 8 car loads at 4¼ to 6. Sharp sold Loyd 180 head at 5¾, and 1½ at 5,85; and Johnston sold Gallagher, 182 head at 5,10. Pidcock & Erisman bought several droves, and there was quite a number of other transactions, the particulars of which were unable to learn, but we have given enough to establish the condition of the market.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, January 17, 1867. }

The produce markets are dull, and without material change, with the the exception of such articles as are affected by the advance in gold. The operations in Flour, Grain, Provisions, and all of the leading commodities are very much restricted, the demand being limited to supplying the immediate wants of small dealers and consumers.

GROCERIES—The market is a shade firmer, and prices are tending upward, in consequence of the advance in gold, though, as yet, the change in this market, is very slight. Sugars are quoted steady at 11¾ to 12½ for Cuba; 12¼ to 13¼ for Porto Rico; 16½ for Crushed; 15¼ to 15½ for "A" Coffee, 14½ for "B;" 14½ for Extra "C." Coffee is firm at 24½ to 25 for good to prime Rio. Molasses, 75 to 85 for Porto Rico. Syrups range all the way from 70 to $1,20, the outside figure only for fancy brands. Teas are quoted at 75 to $1,30 for Oolong, and $1 to $1,75 for Green.

GRAIN—Wheat is quiet but steady at $2,55 to $2,60 for No. 1 Spring, and $2,85 to $2,90 for Winter. Oats dull but unchanged; 52 to 53, for small lots, in store. Sale of 1 car prime Spring Barley, to arrive, at 90, and 1 car, on the spot, at same price. Rye is quoted at $1,23 to $1,25 for Ohio and Penna. Corn is dull but unchanged—we have sales reported on track, at 70 to 75.

FLOUR—Is quiet and unchanged at $12½ to $12¾ for fair to choice Spring Wheat; $13.50 to $14,50 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is quoted at $8. Buckwheat Flour is dull, and offered pretty freely at $3,50 per cwt.

HAY—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and the market continues dull and neglected, and prices are very irregular. We can report a sale of 2 cars at $20, and 1 do do at $21—delivered.

BUTTER—The receipts continue heavy, and with a supply largely in excess of the demand, the market is dull, and prices are barely maintained. Prime Roll is selling in a small way, at 30 to 32, though, we think, it would be difficult to sell a round lot at any price, as there is no demand for shipment.

EGGS—Quiet and unchanged; still quoted at 20 for limed, and 28c to 30 cents for fresh packed.

POTATOES—Continue exceedingly dull, the demand being very much restricted. Small sales of prime Peach Blows, in store, at 90c per bush.

APPLES—In good demand, and the market may be quoted steady at $3,50 to $4,00 per barrel for fair to good, and $4,25 to $4,50 for choice.

DRIEDFRUIT—Dull but unchanged; small sales at 9 to 10 for Apples, and 16c to 20c for Peaches.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in demand at $2,50, and but little in market. No movement in Clover or Timothy Seeds.

BEANS—Coming in more freely, but the market is reported steady at $2,75 per bush, for prime small white.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, }
THURSDAY, January 17, 1867. }

CRUDE—The market for Crude presents no new features worthy of special notice, there being but little inquiry, either for present or future delivery, and prices are nominally unchanged. We can report a sale of 600 bbls, on the spot at 9c, and we hear of offers to sell for March and April, at same figure, without finding buyers. Smith's Ferry oil is selling in small lots at 7½, bbls returned, and 12½, bbls included. Our latest advices from Oil City report Crude dull and nominal at $2,10 to $2,20 per barrel, at that point.

REFINED—The transactions in bonded oil were not near as large as on Wednesday, though, the market is steady, and, if anything, prices are a shade higher. We can report sales of 500 bbls, on the spot, at 23; 500 for February, standard white, at 24; 1000 bbls, on the spot, standard white, at 22½; 500 for April, delivered in Philadelphia, at 31; 500 for July, at 34; 1000 for same month, at same price. The sale of 3000 bbls noted in our last report, 500 to be delivered each month, in Philadelphia, commencing with June, should have been at 34 instead of 34½, and advancing one half a cent per gallon each month. Free oil is dull but unchanged.

ARRIVALS—The following arrivals of oil were reported to-day—all from Smith's Ferry:

RIVER NEWS.

The weather has again turned very cold, yesterday being almost as cold a day as we have had this season, and the strong hopes entertained Tuesday and Wednesday of an early and permanent resumption of navigation have vanished. The river receded rapidly during the twenty-four hours ending last evening, at which time the pier marks indicated but little over six feet.

The Leonidas started for New Orleans about noon yesterday, but when she got to head of "Glass House," in consequence of ice making on her wheel, she became almost unmanageable, and returned to the wharf where she will remain until the weather again moderates.

We presume, that all the tow boats, and there were quite a number of them laid up at different points between here and Wheeling, have arrived, and it is possible that the Sherman and Golden Era may get up, and probably, the Glasgow. The first named boat has been laid up at Steubenville for some time.

The Portsmouth packet Robt. Moore, has a pair of new smoke stacks mounted, and they add materially to her outward appearance.

The Glendale and Kate Putnam are up for St. Louis; Kate Robinson and Leonidas, for New Orleans, and the Maggie Hays, for Cincinnati and Louisville.

Says the Louisville Courier: Captain Geo. Sutton, of this city, started to Pittsburgh yesterday, to purchase an interest in a boat now at that port, to ply the Ohio River and St. Louis trade. He sold out his interest in the Mary Swan to Capt. Swan, and of course will not take command of the latter. A private letter from an engineer in the Red River trade says: "The Dan Able was calaboosed yesterday. She has made two trips in the Red river, and lost ten thousand dollars. I think that in the next ninety days there will be a great many more boats in her fix."

Says the Cincinnati Gazette, of Wednesday: Captain Fairley yesterday received a telegram annoucing the Big Kanawha running out, and the Kanawha Belle and Cottage No. 2 making regular trips from Gallipolis to Kanawha. The Little Kanawha has broken loose and made sad havoc with fleet boats, barges, and other floating property. The Westmoreland, Captain Ed. Evans commanding, is now loading for New Orleans.
